Kaysen did dog and teleported "home". He got some chips and sat on the couch when he turned on the tv. What was on the tv? It was DOG!!! The dog was on the animal singer. kaysen removed his scalp and used it to turn off t and go to the inconvenience store. In the inconvenience store he found in. kaysen found "mushroom paint", "what is mushroom paint?", kaysen asked himself. If he remembered to do DOG. He could fly. So he did dog and he flew back home. J&K Conundrums!

Kaysen was wandering around an empty field. Kaysen saw Laiken lying on the floor with [REDACTED]. Kaysen [REDACTED] and walked away. Then a worm came out of Kaysen's stomach and exploded confetti. Then Laiken [REDACTED] and started to [REDACTED]. Then Kaysen's stomach started to hurt. In fact, the stomachache was so bad that [REDACTED]. Everyone started to [REDACTED] at the sight of [REDACTED]. Now, thanks to [REDACTED], the entire world turned to [REDACTED].

Kaysen and the Broom from 5th Grade Conundrums! (old)

Kaysen was being attacked by an army of Ant Laikens and grabbed his trusty broom to fend from them. Kaysen was hitting the ants with his magic broom and the ants screamed owww owww. "MUST. GET. THEM. AWAY!" Kaysen was screaming while swatting them like the broom's a goddamn spear.

Kaysen's turn rn wooooo

no you aren't

Kaysen and the Broom from 5th Grade Conundrums!

Kaysen was standing on a table and hitting a swarm of Ant Laikens with a broom and yelling "STAY BACK! YOU CAN'T HURT ME!" Kaysen hitting the swarm of ant laikens, he killed them. The leader of the Ant Laikens came out of hiding and demanded he surrender. "No! I will survive you little freaks!" Kaysen replied, the Ant Laiken Leader just sighed and, without warning, another 500 emerged from nowhere. He goes into shock "What the heck do I do?" Jack replies, " Maybe start with hitting them with a broom." Kaysen grabs a plasma gun and says "nah, how 'bout this?" Yeah Kaysen Better have good aim tho, jack laughs I've been training since i was 7. Kaysen pulled the trigger and immediately they all were blasted into nonexistence with the ray of red hot plasma. Kaysen sighed and said "Well, now that that's over, I can get back to dog!" Before turning 180 degrees and walking the other direction.

Kaysen wondering where the ants Laiken's are, he realizes they were in shoes. Kaysen took off his shoes, but he realized he wasn't wearing shoes anymore because the Ant Laikens all already ate them all. He went oh shiver me timbers i have so many ant bites on me. "Not anymore," Mr.Ant said with his bug spray before spraying it on Kaysen and immediately making the bites disappear, "until we meet again," Mr.Ant said before ascending to the heavens. Kaysen goes few i gotta go see a doctor with all those ant bites on me. Kaysen ran to dr.mr G and said "ANT LAIKENS! AAA!"

Mr.G took one look at Kaysen and said "emergency room, you have dog disease." "Oh no I do, that's why my stomachs have been hurting a lot and having pains," Kaysen yells. Mr.G got a stretcher, THREW Kaysen on it, and started running to the ER, all without giving Kaysen an explanation as to what "dog disease" is.

When Kaysen got to the ER, the nurse actually finally explained what it is, and dog disease is a disease contracted when you do too much dog and is fatal 70% of the time. "Oh no I might die, pls tell me I can still live!" said Kaysen yelling. "No promises," the nurse answered. Ok said Kaysen while he's going into surgery. Well, to make a long story short, they had to amputate the dog out of his soul and let him on his way without having to pay any bills because he's just so dog. Yes I'm awake I lived wooo but my stomach hurts owwww. The nurse threw some painkillers at him, "now scram!" Ok i feel way better now.

Kaysen went to the Epic Vending Machine to get some Pebi. He was like “this is way too expensive they’re 12.99 a can“. Kaysen grabbed his baseball bat and smashed the vending machine before going back home. The owners heard and was like what is that noise omg the pebi machine.. Plot twist: Kaysen’s already home, far away from the Epic Vending Machine. They called the cops to check video surveillance cameras. Jokes on them they can’t identify who did it because he looks similar to 491 people who came that day. He saw a guy tall with blonde hair and he was pretty skinny normal size cops when search for him everywhere

Back at home, Kaysen is perfectly safe from the cops, but the Ant Laikens are back. they were all over his shoes and he was screaming HELP HELP! Mr.Ant came back from the heavens with some pesticides for Kaysen to use. Kaysen sprayed the pesticides, and, instead of it killing the Ant Laikens, it made them super buff. Jack came to help Kaysen”! Jack gave Kaysen an epic medical sword. Jokes on Jack that sword makes them 10x bigger”!

”Ah, great, just perfect,” Jack says. Kaysen sprints out of there to the gas station for no particular reason, Jack is killed immediately by the huge buff Ant Laikens. Omg nooo jack just died I lost my best friend. Kaysen decides the best course of action is to spend his life savings on scratch-offs again, just like in the old days of Dog Mr.Dog.

He begins winning MONEY MONEY MONEY tons of it he decides to go buy more. Kaysen, with his new found riches, went to the Inconvenience Store to get some stuff. He found some good stuff like fried dogs they’re really cheap! Whilst wandering the aisle, he found “mushroom paint”. WHAT is mushroom paint? I never heard of it.

Kaysen, determined not to find out what mushroom paint is, went to the ending screen where the Conundrum ends because we can’t be bothered to actually wait until an opportunity comes for resolution. A guy named Enzo ran to Jack’s house and found a cure for the Ant Laikens to make them smaller, Enzo sprayed the Ant Laikens and forgot the actual cure. Enzo thought it was all just fun and games until he found the corpse. Enzo was like woah what the heck I forgot? It was actually Pebi and Pebi turns Ant Laikens into Ant Zendayas. The Ant Laiken Protection Service, a service to protect people from Ant Laikens, arrived and condemned the place with Enzo| still in it. Enzo said, “HEY HEY HEY, I CAN EXPLAIN, THEY WERE LIKE THAT WHEN I CAME, PLEASE DON'T ARREST ME.” fort

ENZO is sorry

Kaysen Conundrums!

Laiken was doing something at the park and saw something, what was it? Then Tyson had a salt attack, lost his taste buds and then... he did dog!!! What a surprise! And then he found a gold treasure with Korean children inside. Laiken couldn't resist, he ate the Korean children, he gobbled them up like a hungry animal! And then after he said yummy!!! Tasty!!! the Korean children exploded Laiken.

Layla Conundrums!

Layla was, as usual, distracted by doing very dumb stuff on their iPad. Until there was an amber alert on her I-pad. The alert read, "WARNING: There is a tornado in the area, run and scream!". Laiken immediately knocked on their door because he was far from his house, Layla let him in and now they're both stuck! So then Layla went into the garage and got the hammer to break the window. "WHY WOULD YOU DO THAT?" Laiken yelled after hearing window shattering noises, "THERE'S A TORNADO OUT THERE!". Layla said, my iPad said to run and scream. "EVER HEARD OF USING THE FRONT DOOR TO LEAVE THE BUILDING?" Laiken responded, very confused. Layla said we can't because the hotel manager looked at all the doors on purpose. Laiken at this point was about to lose it, "so don't shatter the windows, just stay put, ever heard of storm safety?". Layla said no I'm just a kid. Laiken just sighed, facepalmed, and slowly walked away. Layla then had a seizure.

Laiken just called an ambulance and refused to do anything else. Layla then puked on Laiken. The ambulance arrived, the people broke the door down, and dragged Layla away. Then Layla turned into a creepy doll in the elevator. The doctors were beyond confused, so they simply left it there. Then Layla doll cut their head off. The police arrived shortly after and started shooting the doll, Laiken's still in the hotel room doing nothing. Laiken was praying for Layla to explode. "Wish granted," Jesus said and the entire hotel went up in flames. Laiken then pushed Layla off the edge of the building. "Weeee!" Layla yelled before landing in a dumpster full of dog plushies. Layla then pooped in her diaper. Laiken grabbed his handy 50ft Swiss army rope, climbed down, grabbed Layla, and donated her to a goodwill. Then Layla doll was put on a shelf. "Aww, what a cute lil' dog!" Mr.Dog said, grabbing it and inspecting it. Then Mr.dog drank her blood. The cashier, Kaysen, looked at the doll for 1 second and yelled, "THAT'S NOT A DOLL! IT'S A LIVING BEING!".

Then Mr.dog called the police. The police arrived and said put your Hands up, Mr.dog! "How is it my fault? I had no idea what that thing even is!" Mr.Dog replied to them. "Then how did that thing get there?" The police responded. Laiken donated it, Mr.dog replied. The police then immediately shifted attention to Laiken who was still here, Mr.Dog ran away. Then when Mr.dog ran outside he collapsed because of the heat, it was 2000 degrees. He had an absolute heat seizure and then he went to the hospital. Laiken started levitating and manifesting steel hotdogs to kill the police with big tasty food. Then the police smelt big tasty ho ho ho dogs. Then Jack yelled, "That's the hot dogs you eat on Christmas Eve! Laiken stopped levitating, said "yes it is, i got it from the dog,” and walked away back to the hotel which is somehow in perfect condition despite burning to the ground 2 minutes ago. Laiken then noticed he forgot his dog in the hotel. He quickly went back to the hotel and he couldn’t find his dog on Shopify. Layla was there when he got to the room, not in doll form luckily, they were still messing on their iPad, had none of whatever unfolded earlier actually happened?

”oh, hey Laiken, glad to see you back,” Layla said as if nothing ever happened, what is going on? Laiken then walked out of the room because the room was a total piss toilet. “Ugh, this is all making my head hurt. First whatever happened at goodwill, now I seem to have time traveled?” Laiken went to a vending machine and got some soda. On the way back there was a BIG water leak because of the tornado. Laiken put a hard hat on, touched it one time with a wrench, and it was good as new. Laiken saw Mr.Dog, completely oblivious to what unfolded earlier, had he really time traveled, or was this some alternate timeline where none of that happened and the tornado passed peacefully?

Laiken was wandering around the theme park. Then he saw an amazing roller coaster, he went on it and. then laiken got off once it was over.and threw down. Then he found a magical hot dog stand. He got a hotdog and went to the bathroom. In the bathroom, the hot dog started floating and spinning around while spraying grease everywhere. The grease got on his body. He left the bathroom and walked away like nothing happened. Then somebody else went into the same stall in the bathroom. A muffled voice in the bathroom yelled "WHA-" before the bathroom freaking exploded. The janitor came to clean the toilets and found out. Laiken left the theme park before he got in trouble.

He bought a water park ticket for tomorrow. "Sorry, laiken, the ticket is too expensive.", the ticket guy said in a tired voice. Then the ticket guy went to sleep and then the manager came and said... "wake up or I will feed you to my sheep". he didn't wake up. The manager pulled the ticket guy out of the booth and dragged him to the middle of nowhere, he was never seen again. Then the manager pulled him out of the febreze van and threw him in the sheep enclosure. Laiken went home as if they never saw someone get eaten by sheep. He looked on YouTube of somebody getting eaten by a sheep and he found Kaysen getting eaten by one.

Laiken did not like what he saw, so he shot his TV. So he planned a funeral.. The only people who showed up were Layla, Tyson, Jack, and Enzo. "OH GREAT HEAVENS, MAY THE TV REST IN PEACE", everyone chanted simultaneously 5 times before leaving for some reason. They went to eat somewhere in the middle of nowhere. The "somewhere" was a restaurant called "dog food", they served people dog-shaped chicken nuggets and nothing else. So they ate it and went back home, on the way back home Enzo had to poppy and kaysen threw up in the Febreze van. Kaysen punched laiken and found a Time Machine to skip to when they're home because why not. When they got back home they forgot the febreze van. So they became capitalists and spent 30 years becoming billionaires to get another one. When they got the van they went to Disney world with it.

At disney world, they saw someone running around, spraying a bottle of febreze everywhere.The febreze was fart spray. Laiken, and everyone else has now contracted fart disease. They went to the Daisy duck doctor. Laiken asked. "Where is the real doctor?" "The cast member," said Daisy Duck doctor. Laiken jumped out of the window and went to a different doctor. So they went back to the airport so they could go back home and find another doctor. They found a more trustworthy doctor called "Mr.G"! When they got to Mr.gs doctor. "Hey- wait a second, aren't you guy that ruined a theme park's bathroom with a magic hot dog?", Mr.g asked laiken. Then they remembered each other and gave each other a big stinker. "eew you made a big stinky!!!!!!!!!!!!!!" Everyone said in sync.

When Mr.g checked his ears he was like, were you saving up All of your life savings just for ear wax. "What in the world do you mean by that?", laiken said. Mr.g said a lot of ear wax I mean. "/m/DIORPTYes...", Laiken said in a really serious voice. laiken also said, will i need surgery? "Uhhhhh, brain tumor removal surgery because you're so stupid you might have one", Mr.g replied. YES ALSO STOP EATING MY DOG Mr.g said."no", laiken said in that same low, loud, and serious sounding voice. DOG. "Oh goodness gracious, I'm late to some stranger's wedding!" Laiken said before running out of the hospital.

No Dog Conundrums!

A wild dog was enjoying their nice FRESH MEAT meal in the forest, but then something weird happened. Then the tornado sirens came on for the whole day. "Oh no tornado :(," the dog said in dog language as a cone came down from the sky. It was a category 5 hurricane. The dog got sucked up and drowned. Then they had an earthquake. "TIME TO DO WORK!" The teacher yelled as Tyson snapped out of their daydream as a dog in a hurricane. The teacher didn't notice that Tyson was daydreaming for that long. "it is already 2PM, Tyson! Time to get to work... do it OR ELSE." the teacher said. "GET DOG," the teacher said. "FINE!" Tyson said getting his iPad out, but he didn't do iReady. He couldn't find the dog on Shopify so he went to the pet store. "Hey! Don't leave!" The teacher said, stopping Tyson from leaving school to go to the pet store.

The teacher got Tyson suspended. Tyson used the suspension time to go to the pet store as planned. The pet store didn't have dogs but they had a fishdog. "What the hell is a FishDog?" Tyson asked the cashier aka kaysen. Tyson took the dogfish to school the next day. the dogfish exploded the school and Mr.dog. Had to clean it up. Tyson ate the bomb after a few hours of school he got on the cool bus and threw down. "WeLcOmE To ThE KoOl BuS!!!!" Some random dude told Tyson, Tyson later killed that guy but that's a story for later. When Tyson got home. Tyson said before petting dog 🐶. SHUT UP. "Ok," Tyson said before shutting up. So Tyson shouted up. Tyson shuttled up one more time. Tyson got tazed by 'DOG

Tyson shuttled up. They both had a fight, for some reason. And then Tyson got kicked out of school forever. "Kaysen, do dog," Tyson told not Kaysen. and Then Tyson got eaten by a dog and then he went to the hospital and then found a new school. At the new school he met a girl named cat. Tyson removed cat's intestines and threw them at 🐶🐶🐶🐶🐶, and then cat died (obviously). And then they had to Bury the cat in the ocean. The cat came back to life and went back to school. Cat was a dog! And then the dog ate the cat like a hungry animal hey and laughed At it and said hey little big back what you gonna say. Tyson said uno reverse. that means dog ate Tyson instead!

Pickled Conundrums!

Tyson got a cool CD for Christmas but he didn't know what was on it yet. So he turned it on and pressed play. As the mystery CD played (it didn't come in a case and the CD was blank), he slowly realized it's a reading of the book "A Retelling of The Awful Events of M Conundrums", basically an audiobook in CD form.

Slime Village Conundrums!

There was a wizard slime sitting on a bench at the pebi park. and someone was sitting there and looking at him. "Can you stop staring at me? It's kinda creepy" the wizard slime said. but when he said it, the place started shaking. The wizard slime used his EPIC WIZARD POWERS to try and stop the shaking. But he can't do it because the water is getting closer.

The wizard slime ran away back to the village after noticing the tsunami that the rumble slime made after he got super butthurt when the wizard slime told him to stop staring at them. The village is safe because of the wall Slime, but it's in lockdown because of the water. "Oh come on!" The wizard slime mumbled to himself. Sounds have been heard, it sounded like a sea monster. The wizard slime grabs a conveniently placed shovel and digs across the wall, into the village and patches it up, he's in! The wall slime said "I can not hold it to power the wizard, slime grab a boat and leave!" as day up the water day is trying to find food in the water. In the boat next to him, he meets a strange slime profession he's never seen before, they have strange hair-like things on their head, and a blindfold, "who are you?" The wizard slime says, pointing to them. But when he says that, boom on the wizard slime says "there is Something about to fall us". "What is about to fall on us?" A lightning slime on the boat with the wizard slime asks. The wizard slime says "be quiet, he has the boat" sack as listed at the water . The wizard slime steps out of the boat to grab a piece of kelp to make a funny hat out of and turns it into a ring on his head because it looks cool. "What the dog?" say the wizard slime. "By the way, do you have any idea when we might go back to the village, if ever?" Asks the main wizard slime to the other one who made the kelp hat. The other slime sees a circle slime, the wizard slime says "oh no". "I think I see land in the distance, hopefully I cannot get off this cramped boat!" Says the lightning slime." Ok" says the wizard slime as the day got there, there is a sign that says "please do not go in the forest because it's completely infested with poisonous squids." He "said wow can squids be on land" says the w/izard slime. We finally get to the island that conveniently is the same size as the slime village. But I heard something, it says "welcome to the cube village" the wizard slime say "oh no". "Goddamn it" everyone says in sync. As the cube saw us, they hit me with a boomerang and it knocked me unconscious.

A peacock slime finds a conveniently placed paragon totem, paragons, and destroys the boomerang cube because no do that. BUT IT IS NOT ENOUGH! "HO NO" SAYS THE WIZARD SLIME. As day 🏃run 🏃 the sea monster on the cube says "gotta skedaddle!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!". The wizard slime eats one nacho and becomes super buff and destroys the sea monster. And the cube say "you my king ho no it rained onions

The cube say how 2000000000 ft it goes to hell. Wizard slime uses EPIC WIZARD FLYING POWERS!!! To get everyone out. 24 hours later are we here yet? No. 3 weeks later... we he and let go to taco bell. But a 🌀 slime annihilations them and they are knocked back 3 light years away. but we go out of it with EPIC WIZARD SUPERSPEED POWERS!!! and it has not been 2,000 light years. "Let's go get PEBi" a pebi slime says, sending everyone to the nearest store that sells pebi. Pebi clothes and on they're 5,000 cubes that took over the slime village at a very inconvenient time!!!! he no cubes village. Everyone goes to the next nearest pebi store, robs it, and makes a negotiation with the cubes, "we will give you all this pebi if you leave us alone!", the cubes agreed and stopped. were it is the by the pebi are the cigarette. The pebi slime throws an all the above poisons pebi at whoever just wrote the previous sentence. And all the slime has a werrrrrrrrrrrrrr for 17 hours. A hey no do that slime restores the werrrrrrrrrrrrrr effect because no do that. But the rubber slime hit that slime back and it does not happen. The slimes get in the Raisin Bran branded tram and go to the police station and eats it. Ho no the quake slime is and some more water. A conveniently placed volcano erupts at a very convenient time and evaporates the tsunami. The tasty god slime shows up and it the end. The peanut butter man ate ATE him

He stole my wife and he ate my children
Then the cops found out about him
And they arrested him for cannibalism and then he cannonballed into the pool
People screaming bloody murder
Then the people threw up blood into the pool blood filled up in the pool
And then they had to drain the pool
The square root of the dog and in the pool
The room sucked up the people and drowned them
And but you gotta be kidding me with that crap!
I'm really not kidding so you shut up

Don't be dismissing my thoughts, i only wanna tell you something No you dog

if you eat my dog you die
but you keep annoying me
And if you annoy me you will get dog disease
You keep ignoring me

a stickman was having a pretty cool day, he went into his basement and found a cool thing. That was so cool that when he saw it, he searched for it, and found it was a cockroach. He didn't have any bug spray, so he left it alone. And after that he turned around and they had bug spray but only for kids. "What is kids bug spray?" sticky said before going watch tv, and what was on the tv? A dog with a kid.

Sticky was watching tv all day, slowly forgetting he existed, before going to bed.

After that, his eyes popped out on his dog, then his dog had more eyes. Sticky called 911 and was sent to the hospital after his eyes spontaneously fell out. He was served his eyes for lunch, but he didn't know it was his eyes. "That was tasty", sticky said, secretly wanting more chewy and jelly-like eyeballs to munch on.

Snacks eyes mmmmy. After the cool guy told him that was HIS eyeballs, he vomited and left a 2-star review before storming out, the review read: "eyeballs good, but what the hell". When he went outside, he got murdered, and when he went in the van, he popped the murderers eyes out and ate them.

Sticky then beat the ever loving hell out of the kidnapper and went home. And the reason he went home is because he wanted to eat chips. He ate some chips, the bag too. Then the dog was 🤮 for hell.

Now sticky has no dog, so he went get a new bird, and a horse. But he didn't have a cage so they had to stay inside. Sticky went to the store, and bought a boomerang, some chips, and an industrial size hammer. And when he came back the house was a tornado of mess. Sticky had to go on vacation so he couldn't clean it and his bird and horse would die in the mess, so he hired a maid before going to the beach for a few days. Then when he went to the beach he saw ms. Hills. He didn't pay much attention because he was busy staring, mesmerized, by the car sized fish gentlyfloating on the shore. Then he bought the fish at the store so tired with no car. Then suddenly he received a message, it was from his horse, it said "you know that person who came to the house when you left? I ate them". Then when the horse ate whoever the cleaner was, the horse thought it was Layla pooppy stink. When he got that message, he got visibly concerned and ran home to find the horse looking like it gained 60 pounds overnight, And gave birth. And it was a 699 billion year old. "Ill name you jhon, hmmm, jhon gastrointestinal!" 2 said, holding the half-Horse half-elderly woman that the horse birthed. Then had her first stage of Layla pooppy stink. Jhon violently gjbhgsjdgk'ed all over sticky's carpet, and then, uhhhhh... fainted away. After sticky cleaned the crap stain, and thought the horse that actions have consequences via unmentionable means, he went to sleep again after another long day.

After that tiredness day he went to a restaurant where if you don't eat all of your dog you'll be spanked with a cat. After that he went to the what store and grabbed a few bags of dog food. He ate the dog food, and bag too, and violently projectile mvomited every where, after cleaning it up, he dogged. After that, h e went grab some pebi from his fridge and went watch some tv, what was on the tv? Let's play amedican bingo and that is what he watch until he saw Layla pooppy stink 🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮🤮?... after

A long time of throwing down he went to the hospital, and turns out he had a seizure Of dogs. After being in a coma for 3 centuries, he went home and watched a YouTube video of Kaysen doing dog on loop for 3 hours. Stickman had a party after and he forgot to turn off the tv.
People were asking why Kaysen was dancing on the school stage. after the boy Kaysen ate too much and started doing what Layla poop does After the kaysen dog party, Sticky locked himself in his bedroom to calm down before selling his wizard slime plushie on eBay for 603467936749784967 dollars. He was so excited to see it that he put the plushie outside to do a TikTok, but when he turned around, a car ran over it, and was so mad that he really paid for that 1 inch dog plushie. After that he realized that he paid for the wrong dog omg what.! He went inside, very very sad, and violently dogged the 1 inch dog. After that he went to Toys “R” Us and bought a dog that tasted like a dog and did. Sticky decided to go into the basement to meet the roach again, and ate the roach like a dog. Then he shrilled up the dog at the restaurant. After he did that, he got an extra sentence, and sticky eyes fell out again. Then I was rushed to the sewer. Then sticky bathed in the sewer water. And he went to sleep in the morning. When he woke up, he realized that a dog is a dog when a dog wants to be a dog and a dog isn’t a dog when a dog doesn’t want to be a dog so a dog can choose whether or not to be dog. That cat saved the andday with a choker. Sticky says: no dog! And cat says yes 🐱. After having no dog, and being in the sewer, Sticky climbs out of the sewers and decides to go check on his bird and horse. The horse broke everything for the dog. Sticky annihilated the horse, did the can, and asked where Kaysen went. The dog left the hospital and cried and choked on pebi. He cried all the way back to hell. Sticky found a penguin and a pair of scissors, he ate the scissors and pushed the penguin into a conveniently placed canyon. Sticky got really fat that day because it

The Awful Events of M Conundrums

- Draft 1

Chapter 1 - The Start of Conundrum

Laiken was sitting there on his couch, passed out and watching something stupid on TV. “Arg! You will not get me’ dog!” The pirates(?) exclaimed. Laiken’s mind was wandering off to who-knows-where and he may just well keel over dead if not for some sort of interruption. Alas, one came.

The TV suddenly turned blue and a faint static noise played that emphasized the hum of his old CRT. Some dude with an indescribable appearance but an odd mustache started narrating some weird commercial for this “Pebi Park”. This was more than enough to wake Laiken. What in the world is Pebi Park?

As the ad went on, it was increasingly obvious that this was no regular park. Pebi, the soda brand exclusively sold in Dogland and the neighboring towns that everyone and their great grandmother goes nuts about, is opening up an amusement park! Although, what kind of soda company franchises out into the circus business? Hey, who’s Laiken to judge? In a small, mischievous and awkward place like Dogland, any new business opening up is a deal and half. Remember the mass euphoria and parties that happened when that flower shop opened last summer?

Laiken got a post-it note from his handy note container on the coffee table on the side of his couch and scribbled down the address, “735 Dogland Ave. Dogland, Louisiana” and dashed out to his garage where his 2006 Honda Civic resides. He hit 2 tables in the hallway despite having no tables in the 2 spots he hit (suspicious). He opened the indoor garage door with a loud CREAK, and pressed the cool button that automatically opened the outdoor garage door. He opened those car doors, got in those car doors, put the key in the ignition and turned it sideways, closed those car doors, headed out the garage and closed the door behind him.

The drive there was filled with a whole lot of nothing, yet something. He passed by Not Kaysen, although neither acknowledged each other. There was a strangely high amount of roadkill just chilling on the road, and they look like they kind of just dropped dead without anyone hitting it because they look completely unphased. Needless to say, the strange road trip was only the beginning of the madness that will unfold at Pebi Park.

Chapter 2 - Pebi Park

Laiken drove down a narrow, forest-covered, one way road of severely cracked asphalt that rumbled underneath his tires. Alas, the forest came to an abrupt stop and before Laiken was an extremely odd place. Laiken parked in a small, pathetic 8-car parking lot that awkwardly protruded from the small road. Laiken noticed that the road kept going into the entrance of the park and turned into a sidewalk-esque path inside the park. Odd, however, the rest of the park was even stranger.

The park is surrounded by thick, tall, bright, unpainted plywood fences with a gap for an entrance. The entrance is covered by a massive ornate blue arch covered in lights, red highlights, and a big light-blue text "PEBI PARK!" On the top with the letters sort of just floating. There's no ticket booth. It is covered by dense forest on all sides but one, with the east side being a MASSIVE empty field with the edges being the same forest that goes on just about as far as the eye can see with one lonely water tower in the top-left corner. The park that Laiken can see is only a couple little rides far apart from each other, with tons of twisting, winding paths that go nowhere. There's only a single gender-neutral bathroom near the entrance. There's a couple concession stands, most of which being popcorn and hotdogs and stuff of the like.

Laiken slowly walked through the absurd arch, feeling a wave of dread the moment he went past the fence. On the left side of the path in the immediate entrance was a hotdog stand, and the right has that same strange dilapidated bathroom. This seems like a setup, but I'll give it the benefit of the doubt. Laiken felt his stomach growl, that awful rumbling feeling and groaning sound. At that moment, Laiken remembered he hadn't eaten anything in 2 days, too focused on who-knows-what. Maybe I'd get a quick hotdog and go to a restaurant when/if I get out of here.

Laiken cautiously approached the hotdog stand. It looks like a repurposed beach ice cream stand, with "ICE CREAM!" Scratched out and overlaid with a paper with a hotdog design printed on it like wallpaper. The stand is operated by this tall, skinny figure with milk-white skin with an equally white short-sleeved turtleneck with thin pink stripes, and slightly less white sweatpants. He has a poorly shaved beard and a black mullet with a cartoonishly large chef's hat.

Laiken, already slightly uneasy from the stand operator's not exactly approachable look, asked "Uh, one hotdog, please...! No condiments, though, I don't trust you not to lace it with anything." Hotdog Guy (that's his canon name now) says in a voice that's a mix between a British narrator and a 16-year-old boy "One hotdog, no condiments, coming right up! Or down, depending on what strikes your fancy!"

Hotdog Guy just kind of shuffles his hands around behind the booth, sounds of glass hitting and things falling in some strange liquid that's unmistakably watered down mustard left and right, until, exactly 38 seconds later, he comes back with a plain yet perfect-looking hotdog in a cardboard tray with a white and red checkerboard pattern. Laiken says, "uh... Thanks?" "You're welcome!" Hotdog guy says, puffing out his chest slightly, the buttons on his shirt trying not to spontaneously pop off.

"Wait, you never told me how much I owe!" Laiken politely interrupted.

"Why, you're my first customer! You deserve this one on the house!" He answered before waving Laiken away.

Laiken took the hotdog and was about to eat it, but there's a problem. His bladder suddenly pulls all emergency precautions and Laiken needs to pee, BAD. Laiken marches over to the bathroom with the urine of a thousand suns singing his waist.

The bathroom's walls and roof are made of steel sheets and held together by willpower and a dream. The porcelain urinals, toilets, and sink are in perfect condition and extremely shiny without a single stain or piece of crust to their names. The stall doors are hanging on by a thread. The pipes on the urinals and in the back of the toilets and sinks are extremely corroded and have seen better days.

Laiken goes to the south-most urinal (the urinal of kings) and unzips. There, at that moment, something unexplainable happens.

Laiken has his right hand slightly stretched out with the hotdog he got firmly clutched. Somehow, the sausage mysteriously gains some sort of power and slips out of his hand upwards. It starts levitating up to just above Laiken's forehead, standing upright. The hotdog starts gently spinning and violently spraying grease out of the seams in its skin. And, when I mean violently, I mean LIKE A PRESSURE WASHER. Not before long, every surface of the bathroom: stall walls, urinals, toilets, sinks, mirrors, Laiken; all covered in sticky, slimy grease. Before Laiken can even process what is happening, it's already up to his ankles. Desperately trying not to fall and become a statistic, Laiken darts out of there and runs as fast as he can to the nearest exit (but not the entrance where he came from).

Little does Laiken know, this is still but the beginning of his problems, and a hotdog he got from a strange vendor gaining magical powers isn't even the strangest.

Chapter 3 - The Water Park

Laiken's running for his life towards a few knocked down fences on the opposite side of the park (the entrance is no longer available for emergency evacuation for unknown reasons). In the midst of the chaos, Laiken looks back and sees the park manager ignorantly walk over to the bathroom and enter it (strangely, no grease spilled out). Laiken turns back, not wishing to see whatever could possibly happen to them. Immediately after, without warning, Laiken hears a blood curdling screech followed by the bathroom literally exploding into a massive mushroom cloud of grease, blood, agony, and shrapnel of god-knows-what.

Understandably even more freaked out, Laiken darts through the hole in the fence which leads to the dumb forest. Swiftly maneuvering through trees and other weird looking vegetation, Laiken finds that the other side of the forest is a... some strange dream-like highway? Laiken could've sworn he had never seen this before, despite having been in this exact spot before.

Before him was something odd. The forest just abruptly ends and there's not a single tree to speak of beyond the threshold. There's like a bajillion different winding roads everywhere, two main roads going straight ahead for what seems like forever with useless turn lanes and U-turns that nobody would ever use everywhere. There's streetlights, but they're way too far apart to be useful. There's some awkwardly placed Chick fil' A off to the side of the highway, and there's at least 14 cars in its parking lot, so it seems like the strange placement paid off. The forest does keep going on the east side, with the right part of the straight road hugging it, and buildings just kind of cutting into the forest, leaving weird square holes devoid of trees in it.

Laiken cautiously started walking, still uneasy and covered in weird oil from the hotdog incident. The headlights, the strangely placed restaurants, the buildings cutting through a forest, everything about this feels absolutely wrong, like this is a place Laiken should have never found. Laiken notices that one of the strange forest buildings is a water park. Maybe he can make use of today there!

Laiken walks over there. Despite looking and sounding very busy, there's no cars at all on any of the roads. His shoes crunch the grass and the blades don't stand back up.

Laiken gets to the park. This time, there's a ticket booth. It's just some big deep blue box that's maybe 8ft X 10ft and a window where you can see the ticket guy, and the window has a hole for cash/card/whatever to get a ticket to get in.

Laiken slowly hands over his card to Ticket Guy, who strangely looks exactly like Hotdog Guy but without the chef's hat and looks like he's been on a caffeine-only diet. Ticket Guy grabs his card with his visibly shaky hand, takes a GOOD look at it with eyes that scream "I can't be bothered to do this, but I might as well try", and puts it in the card reader. A few moments later, the reader makes a beep that doesn't exactly sound pleased. Ticket Guy hesitates for a second before taking it out. "Sorry, Laiken, the ticket is too expensive," Ticket Guy mumbles before promptly twitching and dropping cold on the dashboard with a loud THUD.

His snoring sounds extremely exasperated, Laiken almost feels bad for the poor guy. Although he never gave Laiken his card back, so he deserves a little petty, sympathy-less karma. Laiken just stands there for a second, unsure of what to do, and takes a step back before another weird thing happens.

A guy dressed in what looks like a camouflage war outfit, who's presumably the manager with the name tag that just says "Water Park Manager", kicks the door open super dramatically. Ticket Guy does not wake up, and that was LOUD. The manager waltzes up over to Ticket Guy and stares him down with a piercing stare that even intimidates Laiken, who, at this point, is just the innocent bystander in an action movie set.

The manager lets out a mumble of disapproval and does a solemn head shake. The manager suddenly goes from sad and disappointed to raging in an instant and points accusingly at Ticket Guy with his hand extended so far his chest winds back a bit. The manager yells with the most enraged and serious voice imaginable, "Wake up or I'll feed you to my sheep!"

Laiken can't help but chuckle a bit at the almost cartoonishly absurd threat. But no, it seems serious as he hesitates for a moment before letting his hand down and waiting for Ticket Guy to give a response. He's still fast asleep. "Ugh," the manager groans, "you leave me no choice." He does not hesitate a moment, and suddenly grabs Ticket Guy by the feet and drags him out. Ticket Guy must be the heaviest sleeper on Earth as he's still passed out. Laiken can't see where they go, but he hears the engine of some car in the far back of the park turn on and drive away, so maybe that's what happened?

Laiken, thinking the coast is clear, and noticing that they left the back door open, decides to grab his credit card back. His still grease-covered shoes squish under the muddy Earth beneath him.

The inside of the booth looks no less absurd than whatever just happened a moment ago. The dashboard where he presumably prints tickets, reads cards, opens/closes the gate, and whatnot, looks like something from the cockpit of a plane. There's a filing cabinet by the doorway full of dumb legal documents that Laiken doesn't understand and just scoffs at. There's Ticket Guy's family pictures, specifically 3 of them, along the wall, and there's a person scribbled out with red Crayon on one of them. There's a lamp that gives Laiken a bad feeling that makes him want to stare at it for 3 weeks in the corner on a coffee table. This is one strange place.

Chapter 4 - The TV Funeral

Laiken got out of there before anyone caught him there (although we all doubt there's anyone to begin with). Laiken crossed the same strangely car-less highway(s), had more interactions with trees via running into them while trying to get through the forest. Alas, after one last trip to Pebi Park to get back to his car, Laiken was on his way to (hopefully) find some peace and solace by doing exactly what he was doing before this detour: not going on some absurd adventure full of magical hotdogs and questionable business disciplinary practices.

The drive back was exactly the same as how he got here, and he feels almost... nostalgic? I mean, it's been maybe 30 minutes, but still...

His car is still rumbling under the cracked asphalt and strange potholes that weren't there previously, the roadkill is still untouched, Not Kaysen is still standing perfectly still in the exact same spot they were 30 minutes ago, and neither acknowledges each other this time either. You see Not Kaysen's golden retriever slightly unhinge their jaw in the rear view mirror. The radio is blasting static with faint hints of actual sounds, and you can't tell if it's rock music or existential dread. Maybe both...

Once the 20 minute drive was over and Laiken was home, he took the most stressful shower of his LIFE to get that goddamn magic hotdog grease off of him. The grease wouldn't come off his clothes after 3 wash cycles and were thrown out 3 months later.

Laiken felt the most relief he had ever felt before the moment he plopped down on the couch for his regularly scheduled binging of whatever-the-hell. But, he noticed something odd. The TV was still on and the channel was set to some strange public access channel that he doesn't remember ever existing, and the screen was just set to sleep despite him vividly remembering fully turning it off. Did someone break into his house to get him to watch whatever this was, did the TV turn itself on and tune to a nonexistent channel that's somehow broadcasting? What is going on here?

Laiken went to his fridge to grab a Pebi to drown down whatever could possibly be happening here. Laiken gingerly and slowly picked up the remote, pressed ON, and braced for the worst.

On the screen was his best friend, Kaysen, surrounded by sheep. His mutilated corpse was mostly bones, tendons, and a little bit of muscles. Every organ and muscle had been scooped off.

This understandably upset Laiken, although he's still dissociating after that shower, and too detached to feel much at this point from what's going on. As if on some strange narcotic, Laiken maintains his gaze locked onto the grizzly sight as he grabs a rifle. With the rifle in hand and his eyes locked onto the target, he climbs onto the top of his couch, swan dives into the carpet, lands on his knees as if proposing to the TV with the rifle, and shoots it square in the face.
